Programma (contenuti dell'insegnamento)

The course reflects on governance mechanisms in light of the economic and business context in which corporations operate: it enquires the solutions given by corporate governance to corporations' organisational and coordination problems. Accordingly, the course enquires the various corporate governance strategies aimed at solving these demands and problems, moving from the structural differences among the corporate governance models of Italy, Germany, France, U.S., UK, Brazil and Japan.

Accordingly, the course adopts an explicitly comparative approach with the analysis of case studies.
